Local Chamber Withdraws Stand Against Tideland Bill

2 MEETINGS LEAD TO ACTION

Board Sends Letter To Merriam in Changing Policy on Matter PROTEST RECORDED
Beach City Officials Report Fears Of Group's Action

The board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today withdrew its opposition to the bill providing for slant drilling in the state's tideland oil pool at Huntington Beach. The board on June 7 had sent a letter to Governor Merriam asking him to veto the bill, under which the city of Huntington Beach would receive a 3 per cent royalty from oil taken from the pool.

Today, after conferences with members of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce and city council, the board sent a letter to the state executive as follows: "Referring to our letter of June 7, 1935, our investigation now discloses a veto of bill No. 1684 would jeopardize the rights of others, which was not our intention. We withdraw our request for such action on your part." The letter was signed by W. H. Spurgeon, president of the chamber of commerce.

Wanted Time to Study
The letter requesting the veto pointed out that Orange county would receive no share of oil royalties under the bill now awaiting the governor's signature, and stressed the need for further time in which to study the situation. The state, with 16 2/3 per cent, and Huntington Beach, with 3 per cent, both are scheduled for royalties under the proposed setup.

Yesterday afternoon a delegation of chamber of commerce men and city councilmen from Huntington Beach met with Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce board members and protested the action asking that the bill be vetoed.

This morning a second meeting was held in the chamber offices (Please turn to Page 2, Column 4)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Heat photographs of human beings, taken in absolute darkness to discover early heart disease, were shown today at the scientific exhibition of the American Medical association. The photos have saved lives by catching the onset of congestive heart failure before it could be detected in any other manner, and early enough to prevent a serious attack.

This new technique was exhibited by Dr. Albert S. Hyman, of

With the state relief committee dumping care of unemployed, now on the state relief rolls, back into the lap of the county, the recently approved state emergency relief administration project of providing medical and dental care for all persons on relief has been blasted, according to indications today.

VANDERBILT IS BETROTHED

NEW YORK, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—George Vanderbilt, co-heir to a $30,000,000 estate and a big game hunter at 20, has become engaged to Miss Lucile M. Parsons, West Orange, N. J., society girl.

Their engagement was announced last night by Miss Parsons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Parsons. Young Vanderbilt's father was Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who was lost on the Lusitania.

Grass Rooters Cheer Bonus Payment Plan

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—A demand for payment of the bonus drew cheers and applause today from midwestern republican delegates as they opened the second session of their "grass roots" conference of 10 prairie states.

It was the first mention of the bonus in a formal session of the rally, attended by 8642 delegates and alternates. The speaker was Harry Glasser of Enid, Okla.

"If the budget is to be thrown to the winds, then the bonus should be paid," Glasser declared.

A statement that young republicans "will not be satisfied with reactionary, warmed over leadership" was made to the conference by George Olmstead of Des Moines, who represents the young republicans on the republican national committee.

"A declaration of principles setting out the views they hoped will rally support in the 1936 presidential campaign, was adopted with cheers and applause just before the conference closed at 1:07 p. m.

The gathering declared for preservation of the constitutional form of government and state rights, "free enterprise against fascism and collectivism, a system of collective bargaining for labor" with child labor banned and women workers protected, and a wage scale "equal to the American living standard."

SEEK BREAK IN TAX DEADLOCK

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—A recommendation of a free conference committee revising the Chatters income tax bill to break a legislative deadlock over rates was held up momentarily today as signs of assembly opposition developed to one point in the reported program.

Although committee members declined to comment, reports were current that dissatisfaction centered on a proposal to automatically drop the tax from one-fourth to one-fifth the federal rates at the end of the 1935-37 biennium.

THE DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 11.—Among the political gentry, President Roosevelt is being credited with a master-stroke of strategy in handling the NRA dilemma. Here is the way they appraise the situation:

To begin with, the supreme court did Roosevelt a great service by saving him from an almost certain rupture with the Senate over the Clark Resolution. This extended the NRA for only ten months, while the President demanded twenty-four. He had won house democratic leaders to his viewpoint and a knock-down-and-drag-out battle with the defiant senate seemed inevitable.

Whereupon the supreme court considerably eliminated this danger.

The court's decision also paved the way for a major re-election campaign issue. This opportunity Roosevelt is exploiting to the ut-

VETO UPHeld ON NIELSEN BOND ACT

Merriam Is Inconsistent, Says Bill's Author After Defeat

TEN VOTES NEEDED
Act Necessary to Big Power Project, Say Many Leaders

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—An attempt to override the governor's veto of the Nielsen revenue bond act, in the assembly fell 10 votes shy of the needed two-thirds majority, or 54, today. The vote was 46 to 32.

Assembly Nielsen, Sacramento, promptly imposed a call of the house with the vote standing 44 to 29 in favor of rescinding the veto.

The measure, giving California cities and counties the power to issue revenue bonds to finance the construction or acquisition of public utilities, was viewed by many as a necessary adjunct of the Central Valley Water and Power project.

The veto was written at 11:50 p. m. Friday, 10 minutes before the bill would have automatically become law.

Nielsen sharply criticized the governor for signing the San Francisco-Oakland bridge revenue bond bill, designed to provide funds for the construction of interurban rail facilities on the bridge, and yet vetoing his measure.

"Governor Merriam," he declared, "is inconsistent. Possibly he signed the bay bridge measure because it was for the benefit of the private utilities and he vetoed mine because it was for the general welfare of the people."

FAIR PLANS GET BOOST

Prospects for reopening the Orange County fair were brighter today as a result of action taken last night and today in the senate and assembly at Sacramento.

The assembly today gave its approval to a bill which would set aside $2,815,000 of possible federal work relief funds for construction of new state and county fair buildings. The bill carries $60,000 for Orange county.

Last night the senate passed two bills allocating $1,000,000 that has been accumulated in the state racing fund, to various fairs. Orange county might be expected to receive about $200,000 of this money, according to Harry Lake, president of the Orange County Fair association, unless too many other county fairs should start up this year to reduce each county's proportionate share.

The Orange county fair board is watching Sacramento developments before taking definite action toward reviving the fair here.

Bloody Chaco War Ends As Bolivia Approves Truce

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—The cabinet of Bolivia today approved the neutral nation's peace formula to end the war against Paraguay, signaling the end of the bloody Chaco war, since Paraguay already has accepted. The neutral powers which extended the peace plan are the United States, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Uruguay. Fighting between the two nations has been carried on officially for three years and unofficially for half a century.

SUCCESS FOR WATER BILL

Assembly Okes Move For Amendment To District Act

The Orange county water district, it appeared today, will succeed in its move for amendment of the act under which it was created. The assembly at Sacramento last night passed the bill, which already had been approved by the senate.

However, the lower house adopted an amendment by Assemblyman Corwin, Los Angeles, which would prevent the district from exercising the right of eminent domain in the Mojave river valley. The measure went back to the senate today for concurrence in the amendment, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

San Bernardino county interests have vigorously opposed the amendment, apparently fearing that the local water district would go into the Mojave country and condemn large amounts of water. The local district's board of directors has pointed out that it has no such intention, however. It is interested in importing from the Mojave area water already put to beneficial use, which might be accomplished under existing legislation. The eminent domain feature in the amendment, struck out in the assembly, was intended to make possible the securing of pipe line rights of way or dam sites.

Other features of the amendment (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

FIGHT IS ON OVER WATER

A spirited fight had developed in the assembly at Sacramento today over flood control appropriations including a $400,000 item which would enable San Bernardino county to continue holding back and spreading water in the Santa Ana river.

Referring to this and some $1,600,000 in other flood control proposals, Chairman C. C. Cottrell of the ways and means committee declared, "They're nothing but pork and barrel grabs," according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The ways and means committee approved nearly $2,000,000 in special appropriations last week when Chairman Cottrell was absent, it was revealed today by the dispatch. Despite Cottrell's objections, the bills were forced to the assembly calendar. He said he would fight them all the way.

Orange county is concerned over the $400,000 item for water spreading, because, as has been pointed out by water leaders here, water sunk into the San Bernardino basin will never reach Orange county.

OTHER FRUIT CROPS WILL BE SHORT

Their Decrease To Aid Orange Marketing, Experts Report

CITRUS CROP HUGE
Pears And Peaches In State Are Reported Way Below Normal

A short deciduous fruit crop in California, especially of pears and peaches, will increase the market possibilities of valencia oranges, it appeared today. The orange crop is estimated at 55,000 cars, or between 20 and 30 per cent larger than last year's yield.

A survey report by the department of agriculture at Washington, relayed by the Associated Press, said that pests and bad weather are responsible for the curtailed California deciduous crop.

Commenting upon the report, Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg today said that valencia oranges slightly better than last year, but the pear crop in California, representing usually one-third of the national total, has been seriously damaged by scab infestation. The California peach crop, normally representing two-fifths of the national output, also has been curtailed.

JAPAN, RUSSIA IN DISPUTE

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
TOYKO, Tuesday, June 11.—Slaying of a Soviet sentry on the disputed Manchoukuan-Siberian frontier, was disclosed today as the cause of diplomatic controversy between Russia and Japan.

Moscow and Tokyo, exchanging notes over the incident, each charged the armed forces of the other with invasion of its territory.

The skirmish occurred June 3, southwest of Mishan. The Soviet charged two Red army cavalrymen, patrolling the frontier, were fired on by Japanese troops. One of the sentries fell, according to the Russian version.

Moscow asserted that when reinforcements reached the spot, described as 1700 meters on the Soviet side of the border, they found only bloodstains and empty cartridges.

Japan placed the scene of the slaying in Manchoukuo, 200 meters from the border and charged the Soviet cavalrymen with firing on a Japanese patrol.

PEARL BUCK IN TRIANGLE

Wins Decree; Will Re-Wed

RENO, Nev., Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Two Reno divorces, granted in quick succession as private trials, today paved the way for the expected marriage of Pearl Buck, internationally noted author, and Richard J. Walsh, wealthy New York publisher.

Shortly after Mrs. Ruth Abbott Walsh had won a divorce from Mrs. Buck's intended husband, the author of "The Good Earth" and other noted novels was granted dissolution of her marriage to John Lossing Buck.

Marriage of Mrs. Buck and Walsh was expected possibly later today.

Both women, who lived amicably together in Reno while establishing their divorce residences, charged their husbands with "extreme cruelty."

Their attorney, George A. Whitley, said Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Buck "are old-time friends."

'G-MEN' HEAD ANNOUNCES DISCOVERY

Additional $90,700 Is Found After Waley Tells Location

$4000 IS BURNED!
Mahan Probably Holds Balance of $200,000 Paid By Parents

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Recovery of an additional $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for return of the kidnaped George Weyerhaeuser was announced today by the justice department.

There were simultaneous indications the department believes the abduction was a two-man job aided by a woman.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, said the money, found buried near Salt Lake City, brought the total recovered to $116,000. He did not account for this amount, however.

The $90,700 was located as a result of the confession of Harmon M. Waley, under arrest at Salt Lake City since Saturday, Hoover said.

"Burned $4000"
In addition, he said that between $15,000 and $16,000 was left behind in a car by William Mahan, sought in the kidnapping, when he fled officers at Butte, Mont.

Waley burned $4000 of the ransom money because "things became too hot," he added, and Mr. and Mrs. Waley—who is under arrest also—spent $300.

Hoover said Mahan "probably has the balance either on his person or buried."

These two men, he added, collected all the ransom paid to release little George Weyerhaeuser, son of a wealthy Tacoma, Wash., lumber family.

Short-Changed Partner
Evidently Mahan "short-changed his partner" about $5000, Hoover said. He had accounted for $111,000 of the money. That would leave an additional $5000.

The $90,700 was found today buried in historic Immigration Pass, five miles south of Salt Lake City, Hoover said.

STATE PENSION PASSAGE SEEN

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Early senate passage was forecast today for a new state old age security act to give needy Californians over the age of 65 years monthly pensions ranging from $20 to $35.

The bill carried a minimum of $25 when it passed the lower house, but this was changed by the senate committee, and if approved by the senate will go back to the assembly for expected concurrence in the amendments.

CHINA MEETING JAP DEMANDS

PEIPING, China, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—The fear of imminent trouble was greatly removed from the city today as the Japanese demands in the North China area were being actively met.

General Shang Chen's garrison forces continued to flow toward Tientsin. Hordes of the national government's troops, whom the Japanese refuse to permit in Hopei province, moved rapidly to the South.

'G-MEN' PLANNING MAIL FRAUD CHARGE FOR TWO KIDNAPERS

MORE JUSTICE MEN ARRIVE ON SCENE

Police Keeping Armed Vigil in Northwest As Mahan Hunted

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
SALT LAKE CITY, Tuesday, June 11. — Removal of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Waley to Tacoma, Wash., to face mail fraud charges in connection with the kidnapping of little George Weyerhaeuser was awaited today, with further concentration here of department of justice agents.

Four more government men had come from Tacoma, and it was believed they brought warrants issued there charging the Waleys, William Mahan and other unnamed persons with conspiracy in the use of the mails to defraud. Three more agents arrived later.

Federal agents here declined to confirm or deny reports that three additional persons had been taken into custody here for questioning in connection with the kidnapping.

Hunt More Bills
As police and Federal department of justice agents kept an armed vigil along the highways of southeastern Washington for a car assertedly carrying William Mahan, who fled from Butte, Mont., Sunday when spotted by officers and who left $15,500 in ransom notes in his abandoned machine, government agents here continued to push their search for ransom bills.

John S. Boyden, assistant United States district attorney here, said it would be necessary to bring the defendants into federal court in Salt Lake City before they are removed.

One complaint filed in Tacoma accuses the defendants of conspiring to use the United States mails to defraud, and a second one accuses Mahan of depositing a letter to extort.

In Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Nevada and California a tireless watch was kept for the kidnapers.

Search For Mahan
Officers at Butte continued to search the area for Mahan and a companion who was seen with him previously to his sudden flight Sunday morning. The belief was expressed there, before the Washington report was issued, that he might have tried to hide in the hills around the mining city.

At Victorville, Calif., Willard Roy, proprietor of an inn, said last night that two $5 bank notes, which he said had been identified by federal officers as part of the ransom money, were received by him. Roy declared the money was discovered after

It was Mrs. Waley's grandfather, Julian Thulin, aged resident of Ogden, Utah, 40 miles north of here, who shed new light on the activities of the suspects since their arrival in Salt Lake City last week. He told a story of having been visited, first by the Waleys and then by a man who gave his name as Davis. Mahan, police here say, went under the name of A. T. Davis while in Salt Lake City before the kidnapping.

ON GUARD FOR CAR AT NEEDLES

NEEDLES, Calif., Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—One hundred officers and hurriedly deputized citizens early today threw an armed patrol over barren regions of the southeastern California desert, searching for a green automobile bearing suspects in the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping.

Sheriff Emmett Shay of San Bernardino county swore in additional men early today when it was believed the machine, sighted 40 miles below Las Vegas, was hemmed in on some trail in the reaches below Death Valley.

Announcement was made at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club today that the regular meeting of the organization, scheduled for noon, June 18, will be omitted, and in its place, Rotarians and their families will hold an evening meeting at the Azusa Angling club.

The Rotarians are advised that they will have to catch their own meal. In other words, they will arrive at the angling club in time to do some fishing, and members will eat the fish, if they catch any.

A special committee on arrangements consisting of Fred Merker, Robert Schilling, Wendell Finley, Dick Emison and C. V. Davis was appointed by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, president of the club. Prizes will be awarded to the most successful fisherman or woman.

GEORGE SEES HIDEOUT! Boy Taken to Spokane House

SPOKANE, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Little George Weyerhaeuser today had refreshed in his mind a picture of the dreary two-gabled house here where the department of justice said he was held captive by kidnapers while they dickered for $200,000 ransom.

George was rushed into the city by federal agents last night to visit the kidnapers' lair while peace officers throughout Southeastern Washington were striving to trap a dark sedan in which they believed William Mahan, sought as one of the kidnapers, was riding.

G-Men Keep Silence
Whether the boy for whom his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma, paid the $200,000, identified the house as the one in which he was held could not be determined—the G-men maintained their rigid silence.

It was learned from other sources that the agents in their search for fingerprints were careful not to disturb the furnishings to prevent George becoming confused.

Lights were burning on the lower floor of the kidnapers' house early today, indicating the agents were still working. Police maintained a silent vigil, refusing admission to the yard.

Crowd at House
A large crowd was gathered around the house when a black sedan bearing a license issued to a Tacoma woman whipped into the alley in back of the house, scattering the persons gathered there. The machine backed into the yard, the doors flew open and the agents sprang out, closing around the boy who followed them. Police in uniform, apparently stationed for an emergency, forced the crowd out of the yard and the boy's escort swept him into the rear door.

MAY TRY THEM UNDER NEW LAW
SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Trial of George Weyerhaeuser's kidnapers in Washington state courts under Washington's new law providing death for kidnapers was virtually assured today with the announcement the decision rested with J. Charles Dennis, United States District Attorney at Tacoma.

Dennis promised to recommend the kidnapers be tried in state courts so they would receive "the severest penalty possible."

"Harry Johnston, Pierce county prosecuting attorney, and Assistant United States Attorney Owen Hughes and I are concerned chiefly with seeing that the kidnapers are properly punished," Dennis said.

Johnston has already announced he will demand the death penalty for all, regardless of sex.

MORE ABOUT RELIEF COST
er June 30 all federal funds would be used for providing unemployment relief only. Unemployables will be returned to the county for care according to county relief standards. It also declared that the county would be required to provide medical and dental aid for both unemployable and employable persons on the rolls.

Double Relief Cost
According to Supervisor W. C. Jerome, the turning back to the county of all unemployable persons for relief will mean practically doubling the county's expenditures for relief work. Last year the county budget allotted $386,000 for welfare work. This amount was supplemented by $300,000, or this county's share of the state welfare bond issue, making a total of $686,000 available for relief work.

Supervisor Jerome said today that when the fiscal year ends in July there will remain approximately $125,000 of the county's welfare funds, plus $7000 of the state allotment, indicating that a total of $132,000 was expended during the fiscal year for welfare work alone.

Decide Policy Later
Supervisor Jerome said the question now confronting the board is whether the state will continue to allocate its share of the relief load to the county for use in caring for the unemployables, or will follow the lead of the federal government and turn it all into the program for work relief.

He indicated it is more than likely that the emergency committee of the supervisors' association will be called to meet and determine a state-wide policy for the various county boards. Pending a decision to call such parley it is probable that the Orange county board will take no immediate action, it was said.

CANCELLATION OF TAX MADE
Despite the protest of Supervisor N. E. West, the board of supervisors today approved cancellation of county taxes on a piece of property recently acquired by the city of Brea.

Assistant District Attorney William Menton pointed out that taxes against municipally owned property cannot be collected despite the fact that the tax had been assessed prior to its acquisition by the city.

HALL TO BE FOR COMMUNITY

Started originally as an American Legion hall, the proposed building in Buena Park today became a community hall open to the public. This action was taken when the board of supervisors authorized preparation of a resolution so designating it. The request was made by Supervisor Leroy Lyon of the third district.

Under the original plan the building was to cost approximately $16,000 and be erected on land already owned by the county. Labor was to be provided by SERA, with the county loaning the Legion up to 20 per cent of the amount of the total cost of the project repayable in three equal annual installments.

Under the resolution as authorized today, the building, as well as the property, will belong to the county.

The measure also provides that the offices and headquarters of the district may be located at any point in the district which the directors select. Under the bill as it now stands, the headquarters are located only at Garden Grove.

The senate passed the amendment without excluding the provision calling for the eminent domain rights on the Mojave. There still may be an opportunity for this feature to be preserved, but it is regarded as a slight chance in the legislature, observers here said.

The Santa Ana river watershed was exempted in the original bill, for purposes of eminent domain, except in respect to water not already put to beneficial use.

He reported the Waleys were "still in custody of our men at Salt Lake City."

DAMAGE SUIT NEARS JURY

A. D. Murray's suit for $5600 damages against John Sands, city engineer of La Habra, for injuries received when a car driven by Sands' son, Robert, hit him, was expected to go to the jury this afternoon in department 1, superior court.

The city of La Habra was originally a defendant in the suit, but was eliminated yesterday when Judge H. G. Ames granted a motion for non-suit by S. M. Reinhaus, attorney for the city and Sands. The motion was predicated on the statement by Mr. Reinhaus that the city's ownership of the car driven by young Sands had not been established.

Mr. Murray charges that his foot was crushed when he was struck by the car.

CHECK BEING MADE ON SLAIN YOUTH

Whether or not Forrest Wilmoth, slain Sunday night at Needles in a gun battle with a police officer, was connected with any recent Orange county robberies, is a question still to be determined by deputy sheriffs.

RATES ON FARM LOANS CUT

Information on interest rate reductions provided in the newly adopted national farm credit act was made public today by C. A. Palmer, manager of the Orange County National Farm Loan association.

The act provides that interest on all federal land bank loans made through national farm loan associations will be reduced beginning July 1, from 4 1/4 per cent to 3 1/2 per cent for one year. Beginning July 1, 1936, the rate will be 4 per cent for a two-year period.

"On loans made directly by the banks the rate will be reduced to 4 and 4 1/4 per cent respectively for these periods," the statement said.

The reduction affects only federal land bank loans, the rate on land bank commissioner loans remaining at 5 per cent.

The act also permits loans for purchasing farms, while under the former law use of such loans was restricted to refinancing debts, repurchase of farms lost through foreclosure, and for working capital.

SPECIAL FARE TO FAIR IS EXTENDED

The time limit on securing the required number of reservations to obtain a special fare to San Diego June 20 has been extended to June 17, it was announced today here. In Santa Fe railroad offices here, in case 300 reservations are received at various chamber of commerce offices in the county by June 17, tickets will be distributed through those offices; otherwise the money will be refunded.

June 20 will be Orange county day, when the Orange county band will play from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. The Cantando club will entertain from 1:30 to 3 p. m. and the band will play again from 5 to 6 p. m. Sally Coe Mueller, soprano, will entertain in the evening, as will John Stout, violinist, and Arras Christie Bugge, baritone.

Sheriff James Reagan started a local investigation. He wired immediately to San Bernardino seeking a complete description of the youth and his clothing. Late today this description had not been received.

NEWPORT BEACH COUNCIL UNANIMOUSLY VOTES GAMING BAN

ORDINANCE TO KILL GAMES ADOPTED

But Measure Does Not Take Effect Until Jan. 1, 1936

NEWPORT BEACH, Tuesday, June 11.—All gambling games such as tango, skillball, chips, flasher boards, cards, and marble machines are to be banned from Newport Beach after January 1, 1936, it was the unanimous vote of the city council last night as it adopted, after final reading, Ordinance No. 435. Violators will be fined $300 or sentenced to three months in jail, or both, the measure stipulates.

Gambling will continue "wide open" this summer, however, as officials agreed to grant special six-month licenses from July 1 to January 1.

Last night action settles for awhile the gambling controversy which has raged since Sheriff Logan Jackson raided and temporarily closed the chip games and tango parlors last summer.

City Engineer R. L. Patterson announced that application would be made within two weeks for S.E.R.A. assistance on the construction of "Seashore Drive." Material for the proposed project will cost approximately $300 and the S.E.R.A. will be asked to furnish the labor and $2000 of the material. Ralph B. Maskey, representing the property owners in the district where the drive is to be built, urged immediate action on the proposal.

LEADERS HEAR EDUCATOR AT LOCAL 'Y'

Explaining the relationship of character building organizations to the community, Robert A. McKibben, superintendent of All Nations foundation in Los Angeles, talked before a group of prominent civic leaders of Santa Ana at a dinner in the Y. W. C. A. rooms last night.

Located in one of the Los Angeles "black spots," the foundation has accomplished almost an 85 per cent decrease in adolescent delinquency, Mr. McKibben said. The cost of a delinquent child costs the community from $300 to $1200 a year, he stated, whereas an entire character building organization, serving hundreds of young people, can be maintained for from $6000 to $12,000.

Development of individual personality should be the motive of character building groups, Mr. McKibben said. Only trained social workers are used at the All Nations foundation, and a personal study of each case is made.

Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adkinson, Miss Eleanor Crookshank, Mrs. R. E. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Finley, Mrs. Marie Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gardner, Mrs. Hugh Gorrard, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Green, of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. D. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henderson, W. K. Hillyard, Miss Mary Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fifteen of his superb photographs will be presented in The Journal as a daily series, starting tomorrow. Eisenstaedt is shown here (right) as he and Prince Makonnen, who may be the country's next ruler, "shoot" each other.

BIRTH CONTROL LEGISLATION ENDORSED BY WOMEN'S CLUBS

800,000 BAGS OF WALNUTS IS ESTIMATED

An estimate of 800,000 bags of walnuts this season, made by C. C. Thorpe, manager of the California Walnut Growers association, was released here today by Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg. Mr. Thorpe spoke at the inter-county walnut growers field day in Santa Paula Saturday.

The Southland on the whole will harvest a larger crop than last year. Santa Clara valley and the bay region will pick about the same quantity as last year, the Sacramento valley a larger harvest and the San Joaquin valley a smaller yield than last year.

The association has 5000 bags of last year's crop left to sell, and the surplus control board is disposing of 1400 sacks a day. The reciprocal treaty with Brazil, reducing the tariff on Brazilian nuts 50 per cent, will increase competition with California nuts, it was predicted. On the other hand, spring freezes in European walnut areas will strengthen demand for California nuts this year, Mr. Thorpe estimated.

The agricultural extension service conducted 200 Southland walnut growers on a tour of Ventura district orchards Saturday after Mr. Thorpe's talk. They observed effects of excessive irrigation on black walnut roots.

PAROLE ABUSES ARE ATTACKED

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—The renewed weight of President Roosevelt's influence was behind efforts to prevent parole abuses today—an incidental result of the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping case.

Praising the bureau of investigation's study of criminal records of two men accused in the abduction—one a paroled robber and the other an ex-convict—the president telegraphed Attorney General Cummings in part:

UNICAMERAL PLAN IS TURNED DOWN BY LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—California's legislature has no desire to resolve itself into a one-house body such as that in Nebraska, but is willing to consider a proposal to lighten its burden and reduce the possibility of other sessions as lengthy as this one.

By a vote of 44 to 27, the assembly refused to withdraw from a hostile committee the senate constitutional amendment proposing the unicameral legislature.

The house constitutional amendments committee, however, gave a favorable report to another measure designed to cut down work by limiting the number of bills which would be introduced by any legislator to 14 for the first part of the session and two for the second.

Baldwin Is Typical 'John Bull' Premier

Stanley Baldwin (foreground), England's new premier, differs widely in personality and thought from his predecessor, Ramsay MacDonald (background).

The following study of two of England's leaders, the one who has just succeeded the other as prime minister, is by Dewitt Mackenzie, head of the foreign service of The Associated Press. Years of service in London brought him into close touch with English governmental affairs and leaders.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

NEW YORK, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—Britain is due for a striking change in governmental leadership since she has substituted Stanley Baldwin for Ramsay MacDonald as prime minister.

The two famous statesmen are as far apart as the poles in personality and, in many respects, in processes of thought.

MacDonald is a socialist and an internationalist. Baldwin is an ultra-conservative, a typical John Bull, who sometimes has been called a "Little Englander" by critics who like to look beyond the British horizon.

Baldwin Born to Wealth

Probably many of the differences can be accounted for in birth and upbringing.

MacDonald, the Scotsman, was born in dire poverty, the son of a farm servant in the drab village of Lossiemouth on the inhospitable shores of the North Sea. From this beginning he battled his way with his own two fists through many trying years to fame. It was perhaps natural that early in life he turned to socialism and visions of international brotherhood, and cast his lines with the working class.

Baldwin, the Englishman, was a child of upper-class wealth. His road through England's famous institutions of learning and on to politics was easy. In time he, himself, acquired great wealth.

Long Party Leader

He was reared in the great Tory party, which represents the wealth and aristocracy of Britain.

The two men are about the same age, Baldwin being 68 and MacDonald 69. Each has been prime minister twice, and has held numerous other posts of distinction in the government.

Baldwin long has been the elected leader of the conservative party which now has a huge majority in the House of Commons, although the present government is nationalist, which accounts for a socialist prime minister. MacDonald for many years was the elected leader of the British labor party, until he was thrown out by his followers when they felt he had deserted their cause in accepting the premiership of the present government.

MacDonald has a magnetic personality and an aptitude for leadership.

Intensely Practical

Baldwin lacks the personal magnetism of MacDonald, but his rugged personality inspires faith and confidence. He is conservative in every way, and has all the marks of the English country gentleman. He is slow to move, but when he does move he goes in a direct line. As a speaker he is unemotional and reserved, although some of his addresses have been called masterpieces of composition.

MacDonald has been described as a visionary by some of his opponents, and it has been claimed he has been too much interested in foreign affairs and not enough in the welfare of his own country. Baldwin is intensely practical and has devoted more of his energy to

FAIRES HEADS DELEGATION

Twenty delegates from Santa Ana are expected to accompany George E. Faires, president of San Diego district, when he attends the Southern California annual conference brotherhood of the First Methodist church in Long Beach Monday, June 24, at the First Baptist church.

Russell R. Lutz, also of Santa Ana, will give an address on "Men's Work of the Church" at the afternoon session, and Gustave Kohler, from here, will sing. Another Santa Ana figure prominently will be H. F. Kony, secretary of the organization. Louis E. Plummer, principal of Fullerton union high school, will act as toastmaster at the evening dinner to be given in the Y. W. C. A.

A former pastor of the First Methodist church in Los Angeles, Dr. E. E. Helms, will deliver the morning address on "Doing the Impossible." Bishop J. Ralph Magee, formerly of St. Paul, Minn., and presiding bishop of the Southern California conference, will talk at the evening meeting.

Reservations are to be made with Mr. Faires at 4092 previous to the conclave.

Santa Ana Junior college alumni will hold their annual meeting in the east lobby of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. building at 8 p. m. Thursday, it was announced today by President Fred Humiston.

McKee Fisk, who has resigned his position as dean to take up further educational work at Yale university, will make a farewell talk. Election of officers will be another feature of the gathering.

home affairs than to those of other countries.

Both Hard Workers

Both men are indefatigable workers, Baldwin, however, has always kept himself fit by plenty of exercise, while MacDonald has allowed his work to trespass on his health.

Baldwin once told me his theory of how a prime minister should handle the House of Commons. Here it is:

"It is a great mistake for a prime minister not to keep in touch with the Commons. The House of Commons is like a fickle woman. If you do not woo her persistently she will become jealous and get out of hand, but if you pay her constant court she will always be sweet and smiling."

SHRINERS TAKE OVER CAPITAL WITH PARADE

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—The nation's capital surrendered today to the fun-loving gentlemen of the Mystic Shrine.

Leaving gravity at home with their business clothes, the nobles of the "playground for Masons," say in bright-hued pantaloons and red fezzes, completely took over historic Pennsylvania avenue.

Even streetcars were rerouted to clear a path for their 70 bands and drum corps and scores of drill teams. Grandstands and bleachers, to which spectators flocked early, lined the avenue.

Red, yellow and green banners, and emblems bearing the scimitar and crescent, dangled from buildings and floated from festoons of colored lights.

Today's parade was for the ostensible purpose of escorting Shrinedom's imperial potentate, Dana S. Williams, through the lavish "Pavilion of Omar" erected in front of the White House.

President Roosevelt's greeting, read by Attorney General Cummings, praised the Shriners for their "devotion to the maintenance of hospitals for crippled children and to other enterprises of philanthropic endeavor."

Adding his own welcome, Cummings told the nobles their interest in crippled children permitted him to mention "an interest which the department of justice has in children, too, although of a somewhat different character."

"The recent kidnapping on the Pacific coast, which I rejoice to say is moving toward a complete and satisfactory solution," he said, "has brought us once again a tragic reminder of the menace that threatens one of the tenderest relationships of life. Terrible as it is, the crime of kidnapping is but one of a series of crimes with which the federal government is seeking to deal."

BUSINESS UPTURN NOTED BY INSUROR

A welcome business bright spot was reported here today by Guy J. Gilbert, local representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company. In May of this year, he said, more salesmen of his company produced business than in any other month of the company's history. This means that a wider spread of people now have surplus funds for investment in life insurance.

"Business normalcy," he said, "is forecast by the facts that this May record of men securing business eclipses the 1929 boom year average by 32 percent."

Mr. Gilbert's company operates over the greater part of the United States and has a sales force of more than 1500 men.

WAY PAVED FOR LOCAL LAWYERS TO ATTEND CONCLAVE

Presiding Judge James L. Allen has received a communication from Judge William H. Waste, chief justice of the California supreme court and chairman of the judiciary committee of the State Bar association, requesting arrangement of court calendars to permit attendance of local jurists at the American Bar association convention to be held in Los Angeles during the week of July 14.

Shades of Valley Forge Hover Over Whittier Drum Sticks

Soldiers in torn uniforms—Valley Forge. Marches through swamps—1812. Blue uniforms battling gray—Bull Run. Grim-jawed troops "remembering the Maine." Through it all the clear rat-tat-tat of the drums—drums which sound their echo today in the Orange county Cozads, whose family since American Revolution—

William J. Cozad of Westminster is pictured here with only a few pairs of his 400 hand-made drum sticks about him. Mr. Cozad has been whittling them for 50 years as a hobby.

ary days has contributed drumsticks to America's great wars.

Scion of generations of soldiers, William J. Cozad of Westminster has whittled drum sticks as a hobby for the past 50 years. At present he has a collection of some 400 pairs which he keeps stored in a chest at his home.

"I guess I've used 100 kinds of wood," Mr. Cozad said. "I have an old long-handled razor that's just about worn thin now. As far as I know I have the largest and most varied collection in the United States."

Gives Sticks Away

Mr. Cozad has supplied the Spanish War Veterans' drum corps with their sticks and has probably given away a hundred other pairs to old soldiers or friends.

"I never sold a pair in my life," Mr. Cozad said. "Right now I have a request for a man in Berkeley who wants to send some to an old soldier he knows up in Northern California, so I'll make them and send them to him."

Ebony is the best material for the sticks, according to Mr. Cozad. He makes many of them from lemon, orange, walnut, and Philippine mahogany. They are about six inches long and weigh from 12 to 14 ounces.

Father Made Drums

Major Henry Cozad, his father, who was once a drummer, made 1,100 drums for use in the Civil war, he said. When Mr. Cozad was a very small boy in Nebraska he made a drum from box elder.

Taught to drum when very young, Mr. Cozad and his brothers have had their own life and drum corps for many years. They represented Long Beach for 15 years at old soldier reunions, held in the middle-west and east. Charles and Harvey Cozad played fifes, while William, Paul, Henry and Art played snare drums, and Arthur, bass drums.

"We did old-fashioned drum playing," Mr. Cozad said. "We played single and double drags."

Recently the corps played at the annual reunion of the Cozad family when more than 75 of the family gathered at Irvine park.

CONVENTION IN APPROVAL OF U.S. MOVE

Resolutions Condemning Lynching, Communism And Fascism Passed

DETROIT, Tuesday, June 11. (AP)—The General Federation of Women's clubs gave endorsement today to federal legislation for dissemination of scientifically regulated birth control information. The vote was 493 to 17.

Leadership of the 2,000,000 club women members of the federation swung from the East to the West today with the elevation to the presidency of Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, of Tulsa, Okla. She succeeds Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, Mass.

Mrs. Lawson was elected president at the triennial convention last night by a vote of 846 to 538 over Dr. Josephine L. Peirce of Lima, Ohio. Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar of Portland, Ore., was named first vice president.

The convention also adopted resolutions condemning lynching, communism and fascism and others urging aid in cancer control and in securing federal aid for child welfare.

Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, of Chester, Pa., sponsor of the birth control resolution, said that "this action imposes no responsibility upon an individual. It is neither political nor religious. We stand for law enforcement. We are hereby simply endorsing an amendment to the penal code of our government."

Mrs. Davis Gives Gavel to Mrs. Rowland at Close of Ebell Club Year

Reports of Grand-daughter of Pioneers to Old Year Be Married in Capistrano

Costumes Add Color to Program of Dances by Manuel Perez

Handing of the gavel of Santa Ana Valley Ebell society from Mrs. C. V. Davis, retiring president, to her successor, Mrs. Fred Rowland, at yesterday afternoon's Ebell meeting in the clubhouse both marked the closing of two years of leadership for Mrs. Davis and the conclusion of the present Ebell club year.

New officers of the club were introduced by Mrs. Rowland as follows: Mrs. Charles Carothers, Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth, Mrs. Rex Kennedy and Mrs. J. T. Wilson, four vice presidents; Mrs. Dexter Ball and Mrs. W. S. Thomson, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively.

Also, Miss Mabel McFadden, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Paterson, curator; Mrs. J. I. Clark; Mrs. William Maag; Mrs. W. I. Jerrey; Mrs. Wilbur Barr and Mrs. Herbert Miller, directors (Mrs. George Briggs, director, was unable to be present), and Mrs. E. D. White, chairman of juniors.

Member Gain Told
Mrs. Davis called the meeting to order. Mrs. Warren Brakeman read the secretarial minutes. Miss Mabel McFadden gave the treasurer's annual report.

In the curator's annual report, Mrs. Paterson mentioned the gain in membership in sections, lauded especially the large contributions of the fifth household economics and modern literature sections to Ebell treasury, mentioned the three new sections for child study, modern literature and speech arts, and requested enrollment in the new arts and crafts section to begin next year.

Mrs. Paterson suggested a need for sections in language, international relations and allied subjects of public interest, in "scribbling," California history and landmarks, and for new members.

Juniors' Work Told
Mrs. W. E. Watkins gave the finance report. Mrs. J. T. Wilson reported for the house committee and was complimented by Mrs. Davis on her faithful work. Mrs. Minnie Holmes was introduced as rent chairman.

Mrs. E. D. White, district and local chairman of juniors, told of the juniors' work and introduced Mrs. Don Park, retiring Junior Ebell president, and Miss Jeanette Klatt of Girls' Ebell, who reported. Miss Klatt told of the girls' work and Mrs. Park of the juniors' activities. Mrs. Park expressed the younger groups' joy in having Mrs. White, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. John Tressman on their board of supervisors.

Mrs. Davis in her report expressed her feeling that the "40th year of Ebell club had measured up to previous years." She mentioned highlights of her two years as president. She also thanked Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Halladay, Mission Hill, San Juan Capistrano, Miss Marion Elizabeth "Betty" Halladay, granddaughter of two pioneer Santa Anas, the late Monroe Halladay and the late W. B. Winans, will become the bride of Eric Cliff of San Juan.

Miss Halladay was born in Santa Ana, as was also her father. She is a graduate of the San Juan Capistrano schools and now is doing secretarial work in the mission village.

Her fiancé is also a graduate of the Capistrano schools and is employed by the Shell Oil company at Dana Point, where they plan to make their new home.

This evening Miss Halladay, her parents and her brother, Whitney, are to be guests at an informal dinner party given by two family friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stroschein, Capistrano.

Tomorrow afternoon a hostess sextet, including Mrs. Guy Williams, Mrs. Carl Hankey, Mrs. Will Bathgate, Mrs. Simeon Bathgate, Mrs. Oscar Guilbert and Miss Mabel Cooper, will entertain with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Halladay in the Guy Williams' home, Capistrano.

her committees and the various clubwomen who have assisted her in one way or another in club work.

Mrs. Earl S. Morrow reported for the auditing committee.

Mother Past President
When Mrs. Davis gave her the gavel, Mrs. Rowland introduced her mother, Mrs. C. F. Crose, past president of the club, and also Mrs. E. M. Nealey, through whose efforts 25 years ago she became a member of Ebell.

Mrs. Davis was given a formal bouquet and a floral basket from friends.

Mrs. Edith Cloyes, first vice president, presented Mrs. Davis with a gold and silver flower container to complete the set begun by her board members, who recently presented her with a set of two composites. The gift was wrapped in gold cellophane.

Mrs. Rowland's plea for her coming service to the club was one of cooperation and "that we may think things through." She also thanked Mrs. Davis for the courage she wore.

Mrs. Rowland introduced the program, which opened with violin and guitar arrangements of Spanish melodies by Alberto Corral and Gregoria Valdez, Los Angeles.

Colorful Program
Manuel Perez of Los Angeles, noted interpreter of Spanish folk dances and songs, presented a varied and colorful program which was increased greatly in effectiveness by the number and beauty of costumes. He wore first a costume of gold sequins with red and gold cape and black hat, then a red and white peasant blouse and a beret and scattered flowers from a basket as he sang, next the colorful yellow satin and castanets of a more formal dancer. The "troubadour" who wore satin blouses and scarlet sashes, and high-waisted trousers, played in the intervals between each of the dances. Miss Barnett was piano accompanist.

One of the most striking of Mr. Perez' costumes was a black and white vaquero outfit with fur jacket, chape and dotted scarf. In this he presented a serenade from Cordova, displaying excellent dramatic ability.

A costume of black sequins and cream velvet, one of creamy velvet and satin and gold braid and a gaucho outfit entirely in black and white satin were also featured by the Spanish artist, who was enthusiastically applauded by the clubwomen.

Refreshments Served
At the close of the program, the hospitality and courtesy committees, assisted by a group of Junior Ebell members, all under the general leadership of Mrs. James Harding, served ices, cakes and tea and coffee in the patio, which was gay with pottery containers of geraniums and ornamental grounds.

Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim, new southern district vice president and retiring state chairman of literature in the California Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Marian Miller of Huntington Beach, county federation vice president, were among special guests for the day.

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN TO MEET
First Congregational church Women's Union sections will meet tomorrow, according to the following schedule:

Northwest—2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. P. F. Schrock, 205 West 20th street.

Camps represented were from Belflower, Fullerton, Orange, Huntington Beach, Wilmington, Laguna Beach, two from Long Beach, Lomita, and two from Santa Ana. Mrs. Lenora Farmer, orator of Magnolia, welcomed the convocation, deferring her chair to Mrs. Lenora Fletcher, district president.

Entertainment was pot-luck, with the Santa Ana camps offering Mrs. P. R. Arnold in a reading, "Being Clicked," and Mrs. Margaret Corbett and Miss Ada Teter in vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Fisher of Orange. Dance and song numbers, a play, readings and instrumental selections were presented by the visitors.

A buffet supper made gay by the use of var-colored pottery and quantities of flowers was served on the terrace of the Mrs. Charles Spicer home, North Park boulevard, last evening with Mrs. Spicer's daughter, Miss Mildred Spicer, as hostess to a group of her fellow senior collegiennes at Scripps college.

The girls motored to Newport Beach earlier in the day for a swim in the surf and a short visit to the summer home of Miss Kathleen Dolley.

After supper, Miss Spicer showed motion pictures taken on the Scripps campus during the recent sports day.

Guests included Miss Dolley, and Misses Peggy Bassick, Dorothy Wright, Jean Campbell, Barbara Bliss, Destea Ahlbury and Muriel Matzen of Scripps, and Miss Marian Brownridge of Pomona college. The Scripps girls all will be graduated from college Friday.

Citizenship Classes Honored

Carrying out the nationalization program of Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, 35 candidates for Americanization were guests at a meeting of the organization held last night in the K. of C. hall. Fourteen nations were represented.

In a talk on "Citizenship and the Constitution," Ray Adkinson, city superintendent of schools, compared the spirit of naturalization class to that of the pioneers who founded American government.

"The courage to cast off family and country and settle with a new resolve in a strange country is the replica of the spirit of the pioneer," Mr. Adkinson said.

Candidates Welcomed
"The spirit of adventure, those new ties to fit into the great complex system of living is the system of democracy," he continued.

Welcome to the candidates was expressed by Nell Hunt. In the absence of Ruth Katlar, president, Muriel Bray, president-elect, officiated.

The SERA concert orchestra played during the evening and Mrs. Vernon Klaytor sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Winifred Humiston. Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education, and W. W. Wieman, principal of the Lathrop Evening High school also were present.

Officers Named
Refreshments were served under direction of Olive Witt, chairman, assisted by members of the organization. Matilda Lemon, Americanization chairman, was assisted by Mae West, Gladys Edwards and Muriel Bray as hostesses.

At the meeting of the Native Daughters, preceding the reception, those elected were: Hazel Flaherty, financial secretary; Florence Watson, treasurer; Gladys Edwards, marshal; Genevieve Hickey, Martha DeVenney and Myrtle Ellis, trustees; Alice Rogers, organist; Olive Witt, insistent; Gertrude Etzel, outside secretary; Muriel Bray, delegate; Martha DeVenney, alternate; to Grand Parlor in Sacramento, June 17-22.

Lagunalog

Little theater-goers from everywhere applauded the famous George M. Cohan play, "The Yarn," presented at the Community playhouse this past week-end. The play was one of the most successful presented here and the audience among the most enthusiastic.

Victor Rankin, young actor and singer, as "The Yagabond," a mad, dashing traveller of the roads, was to be congratulated on his splendid interpretation of the character.

Among the numerous attractive costumes noted were those of Mrs. C. V. Davis, who wore apple green organdy, frilled at the sleeves and around the circular hem, with summer straw hat and corsage of tallman rosebuds, and Mrs. Fred Rowland, in figured blue and pink chiffon with a gardenia white summer hat and accessories.

Also, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, retiring program chairman, in a smart, chalk white frock accented with red and black buttons and semi-spools jewelry and wide-brimmed scarlet straw hat ornamented with shiny cherries; Mrs. Warren Brakeman in white dress and mandarin collar; and black accessories; Mrs. William Maag in black and white frock and white hat; Mrs. J. I. Clarke in pink and blue and summery hat.

And Mrs. M. Cloyes in pale yellow, figured crepe and straw hat with chocolate brown crown and band.

And Mrs. W. I. Ferrey in dotted chiffon and white hat; Mrs. Wilbur Barr in pink shirtwaist frock and natural straw hat, and Mrs. Herbert Miller in figured crepe frock with square white collar and dark hat and accessories.

And Mrs. Frank Paterson in black and white organza with ruffled equalizer detail at the shoulders and a white straw hat; Mrs. J. T. Wilson in blue figured Edith Stineit and Miss Carolyn Oppen prizes. A traveling game and a treasure hunt outside the home were also featured.

After the hunt, a two-course supper was served by candle light at tables appointed in gay rain colors. The honoree's table was centered with a miniature nightgown passing through a desert. She was given a gift from the hostess, Mrs. Elmer Abbott assisted with the serving.

Also present were Mesdames Sylvia Andrews and Esther Kubit, Anaheim; Helen Lutz, Ruth Boose, Frances Lutz and Vira Abbott, Santa Ana, and Alma Juenke, Florence Juenke and Elsie Stoller, Orange.

LOVE RETURNS TO RUSSIA

RUSSIA—the new Russia—is learning again. It is learning to love. The dispatches tell us the people of that willful, Godless soviet have been told officially that love has come to play an important role in bolshevik life and must, hereafter, be considered the foundation of the soviet social structure.

The former communist theory that the family is of diminishing importance has been abandoned, as evidenced by a whole series of pronouncements and official measures in recent months intended to strengthen fire-side influences.

There is joy in Heaven over this. There will be joy in soviet Russia, too—joy where there has been sorrow; peace where there has been strife; civilization where there has been barbarism.

We doubt if Russia has accomplished a single thing since the revolution that will mean as much toward the success of its various "five-year" plans as this return to one of the Creator's greatest precepts.

The soviet government may be selfish in its new edict. It may wish to encourage more marriages and to allay the fear of race suicide. Regardless of what lies behind the move, Russia will yet be great if it obeys the new edict.

A return to love of home and family will be a step toward paving the way for a return to God, for God is love and without that understanding no nation can stand.

Russia has tried all manner of experiments in its determined effort to succeed. It has defied the world. Churches have been turned into stables, crosses made into kindling wood, religious training ridiculed and its teachers spat upon while the dictator took charge of family life and tried his hand at undoing the work of the Almighty.

But the scheme didn't work. Hate and bigotry, enshrined as they were, proved weak and futile. Russia has encountered a stone wall. It has reached the end of the road. Man's extremity again has proved to be God's opportunity.

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S caustic "horse and buggy" blast at the supreme court was not the first time he has taken a public slam at the Nine Old Men.

During the 1932 presidential campaign he also administered a brisk rebuff.

The incident occurred in Baltimore. Roosevelt's prepared speech contained no reference to the supreme court. It was a fighting arraignment of republican policies on the tariff, farm relief, government finance, prohibition, economy and unemployment aid.

A crowd of 25,000 turned out to hear him. It was one of the most enthusiastic audiences he addressed during the campaign. His blistering shots at the opposition were wildly applauded.

It was under this stirring stimulus that Roosevelt deviated from his manuscript to hurl the charge that "since March 4, 1929, the republican party has been in complete control of all branches of the government—and the supreme court as well."

The republicans attempted to fan the statement into an issue. But Roosevelt refused to discuss the matter further and in a few days it disappeared from view.

FLAMING YOUTH?

THE JOURNAL commented recently on an exceptionally fine bit of fine arts work produced by the Santa Ana Junior College—the college annual. Today another example of real craftsmanship, in its way equal to the J. C. book, was left in the editor's office. It is Ariel, the 1935 yearbook of the Santa Ana Senior High school. It is another product of the Junior College Fine Arts press and in workmanship and text, it would do credit to an institution of far greater size.

But most important of all is the insight the book gives to what often is concealed in the student mind. Listen to this from the foreword:

"We must create a new patriotism, not for our country, not for our state, but for humanity. It is to youth that the world looks with hope and pride. It is we who must destroy the remaining barriers of racial prejudice. It is we who must advance with indefatigable earnestness this new patriotism. It is only in this way that civilization may reach a happier and higher plane.

"We, the students of Santa Ana High school, are well aware of these things. We feel very deeply this responsibility that has been placed upon us, and we shall strive to consistently deserve the trust which has been placed in us. And so, by this book we do homage to this new awakening. We dedicate this Ariel to World Friendship."

After that, we wonder what's become of "Flaming Youth."

WEST IS ON ITS WAY

RETAIL trade figures for the west, just made public, are stimulating. The gain in trade volume over 1934 is more than one-fifth for the coast district. Some cities show spurts up to one-third.

Retail prices, exclusive of foods, are some three per cent lower today than they were last year. Stocks are turning over faster. Buying is coming back into luxury lines.

New furniture is being bought. Arizona and California are up 17 per cent. Clothing sales are about one-third greater than last year.

Almost everywhere, collections are better. It is through retail channels that money starts to circulate as it starts its upward spiral. There is definite evidence that the downward swing has not only been stopped, but that things are on the upturn. The west is on its way.

Whimsies

The last three blocks of lower

Fifth avenue, which approach

Washington Arch in such sombre dignity, have become a tumble

of bright awnings, tubed trees and sidewalk tables. It is as though a slice had been cut out of the heart of Mont-parnasse.

Here is more than any other section of the city, the outdoor cafe has taken root. The short strip is almost solidly filled with them and with them from nearby studios.

Lunch time brings publishers to talk things over with authors.

Stars, fortunate with summer engagements, have also discovered the section. At one table Helen

Alexander, at another the Billy

Gaxtons and so on. Also a sprinkling of young men with flowing ties to discuss the social revolution.

Joseph Hergesheimer was a diner on a recent evening. Also

Achmed Abdullah, Zona Gale and the jongleur Hi Phillips. Roaming from table to table are the quick sketch artists and silhouette cutters. And for a crowning touch

those furtive who flash back coat labels for a glimpse of naughty pictures.

The sidewalk cafe or something has proved a solar plexus sock for the roof gardens. The handful that opened have found customers coy after the spurge of an opening night. At one the other evening there were 14 patrons, a band of 18 pieces, about 50 gloomy waiters and four hapless dance-for-a-dollar boys.

H. L. Mencken, during his American Mercury editorship, used to commute from Baltimore once a week. After a day at his desk, he would usually relax for the weekend at a friend's house in the apartment of George Nathan at the Royalton. Eugene O'Neill might drop in. Or Sinclair Lewis along with lesser luminaries. But Mencken has become only an occasional visitor now. A month or so may pass without his presence.

He wears a derby and puts up at the Algonquin.

They were talking of potent drinks such as a float of brandy in a glass of frappé creme de menthe and called The Stinger. It was the reputed invention of Jim

Regan, of the old Ketchikan and the heaviest lusher who ever sag after three. Erskine Gwynne told of a thin white wine in Southern France. It appeared pleasantly mild, but like the after-taste of fog had the sting of gun flint—picture a fust. With an ordinary meal it was innocuous enough, but consumed with a raw pear for dessert had the kick of an army mule. Imbibers began throwing money away or battling gen-dermally. The cheapest of all jags, several said, was a salad of beer through a straw. It's still a custom in Bowery fly-traps.

My choice for the dynamite drink is the absinthe drip. I experimented with its potency but found the villain of the piece had been a real violin-playing name,

Donald Dunbar. At the time he was a press agent at Col. Ike Martin's Chester Park in Cincinnati. I was on a dull routine assignment from which I rather hoped to salvage a gratuitous dinner. So on the club house porch with Creator's band playing "Glow Little Glow Worm" I was persuaded to have an affair with one of the smoky libations dribbled through a lump of sugar. The world turned suddenly over, all rose tinted. I recall bellied around in a daze with a strange and protesting lady at the next table. On the street car going home the motorman suddenly became my hero. So great was my admiration I presented him with my gold hunting

case watch, exclaiming "a grave low

bow. It is probably an heirloom in his family now. Likely his grand-children are teething on it.

My next morning headache was built for a hippopotamus.

It might be titled "The Strange

Case of Glenn Hunter." A real life story as baffling as some tales of fiction. He came up specula-torily, a mother's boy, to become the foremost of the young theatrical stars of his generation.

Legitimate and cinema producers sent him blank contracts to fill in the salary figure and sign. The world was at his feet. His dolent, child-like wistfulness in "Merton and the Movies" was one of the memorable roles of the theatre.

Other castings distinguished him.

Then he went out like a light.

Broadway read of him in Variety playing chance roles with obscure stock companies, walk-on parts in tab revues and the like. At the moment, under a pseudonym, he is broadcasting cooking recipes over a lesser network. The Rialto's

Experiments

"Really, Mary's sense of humor is so crude that I wonder if the child is all there. And more often than not she is guilty of positive vulgarity."

Mary was 13, and unquestionably she was guilty of the faults of which her parents accused her. But the early 'teens are like that. They cannot be expected to be subtle, to have learned what is and is not funny, what is permissible and in good taste, and what is not.

Experimenting

They are in the experimental stage, when they are trying out a "line" to see if it is the one they want. All the old jokes and stories and forgotten are new to them. After all, funny stories are limited in number and recur in varying forms from generation to generation.

Feeling Well Today?

By Dr. Iago Galdston

ACIDOSIS IN CHILDREN: I

There is a clinical condition characterized by pallor, lassitude, irritability, fever, vomiting, diarrhea, and as sweet smell of the breath, which is witnessed in children and which is quite commonly designated as acidosis. This condition is not uncommon.

Foods which are eaten must undergo very complicated chemical changes before they become available as fuel for the body's uses. Thus, for example, the metabolism of fats is profoundly influenced by the presence and utilization of carbohydrates or sugar foods.

Indeed, it may be said that we "burn our fats in our sugars," and if there be no available an adequate amount of sugar, the fat will not be completely broken down into its simple elements, and as a result intermediary chemical products called acetone and diacetic acid will be formed. It is these two agents which impart the sweet odor to the breath noticed in acidosis and it is these substances, blood and urine, warrant the designation, which by their presence in the nation of the case clinical acidosis.

Such acidosis may therefore arise because of an inadequate intake of carbohydrate (sugar) foods or because of an excessive intake of fats, or, as in the case of diabetes, because of disturbed sugar metabolism.

In children the development of clinical acidosis, however, appears to be commonly due to disturbance in liver function.

Children show widely differing reactions to infection. In some a slight nasal catarrh may be accompanied by diarrhea, or an acute tonsillitis may be accompanied by a high fever, vomiting, etc.

Tomorrow—Acidosis in Children: II

The People

Editor The Journal:

In his semi-weekly press conference the president monologued for an hour regarding the recent decision of the supreme court on the New Deal policies. Plainly, he is much disconcerted over the collapse of the structure evolved at so much cost and effort. The dying spasms of the Blue Eagle touched him deeply. He said the decision was the most important since the Dred Scott case (1857) when Chief Justice Taney said that "the negro has no rights which the white man is bound to respect."

The president lamented that the work of the Federal Alcohol Control administration must be abolished to accord with the court's ruling, and pointed out that liquor control must be turned back to the quarrelsome mess of 48 states, and so does retributive justice come back to plague those who stultify it.

The 18th amendment vested all power over liquor control in the federal government. Again and again the validity of congressional action thereon. There was absolutely no doubt as to the power of congress in the premises for the 18th amendment as an integral part of the constitution. But certain interests saw fit to flout this portion of the organic law and after ridiculing and debasing it, demanded its repeal. Roosevelt placed himself at the head of the repealists and, largely on this ground, won the election. Repeal was forthwith enacted, the only noteworthy promise of the democratic platform fulfilled. Instead of a sure constitutional basis for federal alcohol control, the administration substituted an arbitrary, officious one. The supreme court now rules that such control is invalid. So having abolished the constitutional foundation the president now has none at all. So there you are. Even cockeyed chickens have an uncanny way of coming home to roost.

TURKS ROAD TAX

ISTANBUL (AP)—Some 100,000 Turks who failed to pay the annual road tax of $6 have been put to work on highways by order of President Kamal Ataturk. The government expects to reap 80 miles of new roads in and around Istanbul alone from the conscripted labor.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEATTLE, Wash. — Fire that broke out on the northern water front during a hurricane last night, was carried by the wind to a district eastward thickly covered by wooden buildings, and in a short time, 20 acres were ablaze, causing a loss of $1,000,000, and driving 500 people homeless into the storm.

A satisfaction to everyone concerned was the pretty little comedy, "Cupid at Vassar," given at the Grand opera house last night by local talent for the benefit of the Ebbl clubhouse.
